

Complaint Handling Regulation

Effective from 09.08.2016- until revoked

Our company intends to ensure that its services and administration practice are performed to the satisfaction of its customers in every aspect. Each feedback concerning our products, services, procedures, colleagues, and company, regardless whether positive or negative, is important for us to continuously improve the quality of our services and increase the degree of satisfaction of our Customers.

In order to handle complaints and critical observations properly, we apply the following complaint handling principles and practice:

- During our complaint handling procedure we handle our complaints in compliance with the provisions of Article 159. of Act LXXXVIII of 2014 on the Insurance Business, the 28/2014 (VII. 23.) NBH Decree and the 13/2015 (X.16.) Recommendation of NBH.
- By focusing intensively on critical observations and complaints received, we try to improve the quality of our services and products in the interest of our Customers and are committed to increase the degree of our Customers' satisfaction on a continuous basis. The fast and effective remedies to complaints also help us achieve those goals.
- Our complaint administration procedure guarantees that each complaint is investigated thoroughly, objectively within the shortest possible time with an adequate response sent to the Customer and with remedies provided fast in relation to justified complaints. All relevant circumstances are taken into account during the investigation of the complaints. We carry out a detailed examination of every problem and objections were raised and answer to our Clients. During the complaint handling procedure the experienced and skilled staff deal with complaints empathically, in customer focused and consumer friendly way. We communicate with our Customers in a clear and understandable way. The principle of good faith and fairness guide us, we act transparently and predictably.
- Another effective factor in this process is that our Customers' enquiries are handled when the first contact is established – if it is possible – whereby we correct our errors. If the case is more complicated and more time is required for finding a solution, then the case, as a complaint, is forwarded to our Consumer Protection & Complaint Management Department, which runs a central complaint handling procedure. The experts working at the Consumer Protection & Complaint Management Department are consumer protection officers, who proceed in complaint cases with focused attention, and whose skills and experience guarantee that consumer protection and Customer orientation will always remain in the centre of attention.
- Although the respective legal regulation provides 30 days for the investigation of complaints and for coming up with a response, we try our best to respond to our Customers in simpler cases sooner.
- We provide several communication channels for feedback, enabling our Customers to express their views more easily, simply and faster verbally, by phone, electronically or in a letter.
- We investigate complaints free of charge.

You may send us your remarks and complaints by using one of the following channels:
